Letters to the Editor . . .

Dear Editor,

In reference to your year book, I wish to comment that I liked it very much. However, I think that it could be greatly improved by putting a better cover on it.

Twila Sagle

Dear Editor,

More pictures of assemblies, classes, halls, and the kids out on the school grounds. It would make our annual more interesting and help parents to know what kind of a school we have.

Thelma Tharp and
Shirley Barker

Dear Editor,

I read your last year's annual, and I think it could be greatly improved by having more cooperation of the various business places in the advertisement.

Bernard Sowers

Dear Editor,

More and more pictures — less reading material. How about individuals of lower classes, as well as the seniors.

Marvin Folden

Dear Editor,

The pictures were fine, but who did the write-ups? Didn't sound like a student's language.

Bill Rider

Dear Editor,

The lay-out of the book was unique. Liked the big pictures introducing each section.

Mary Carr

Dear Editor,

Didn't like the book. Too many of the same people in it.

Hope and Heritage?

Foreword

As the thirteenth edition of the Rosette makes its debut, we, the staff of 1950, hope that the student body, the faculty, and the Roseville fans will find in its pages the inspiration which will keep them solidly behind the high school activities of the coming years.

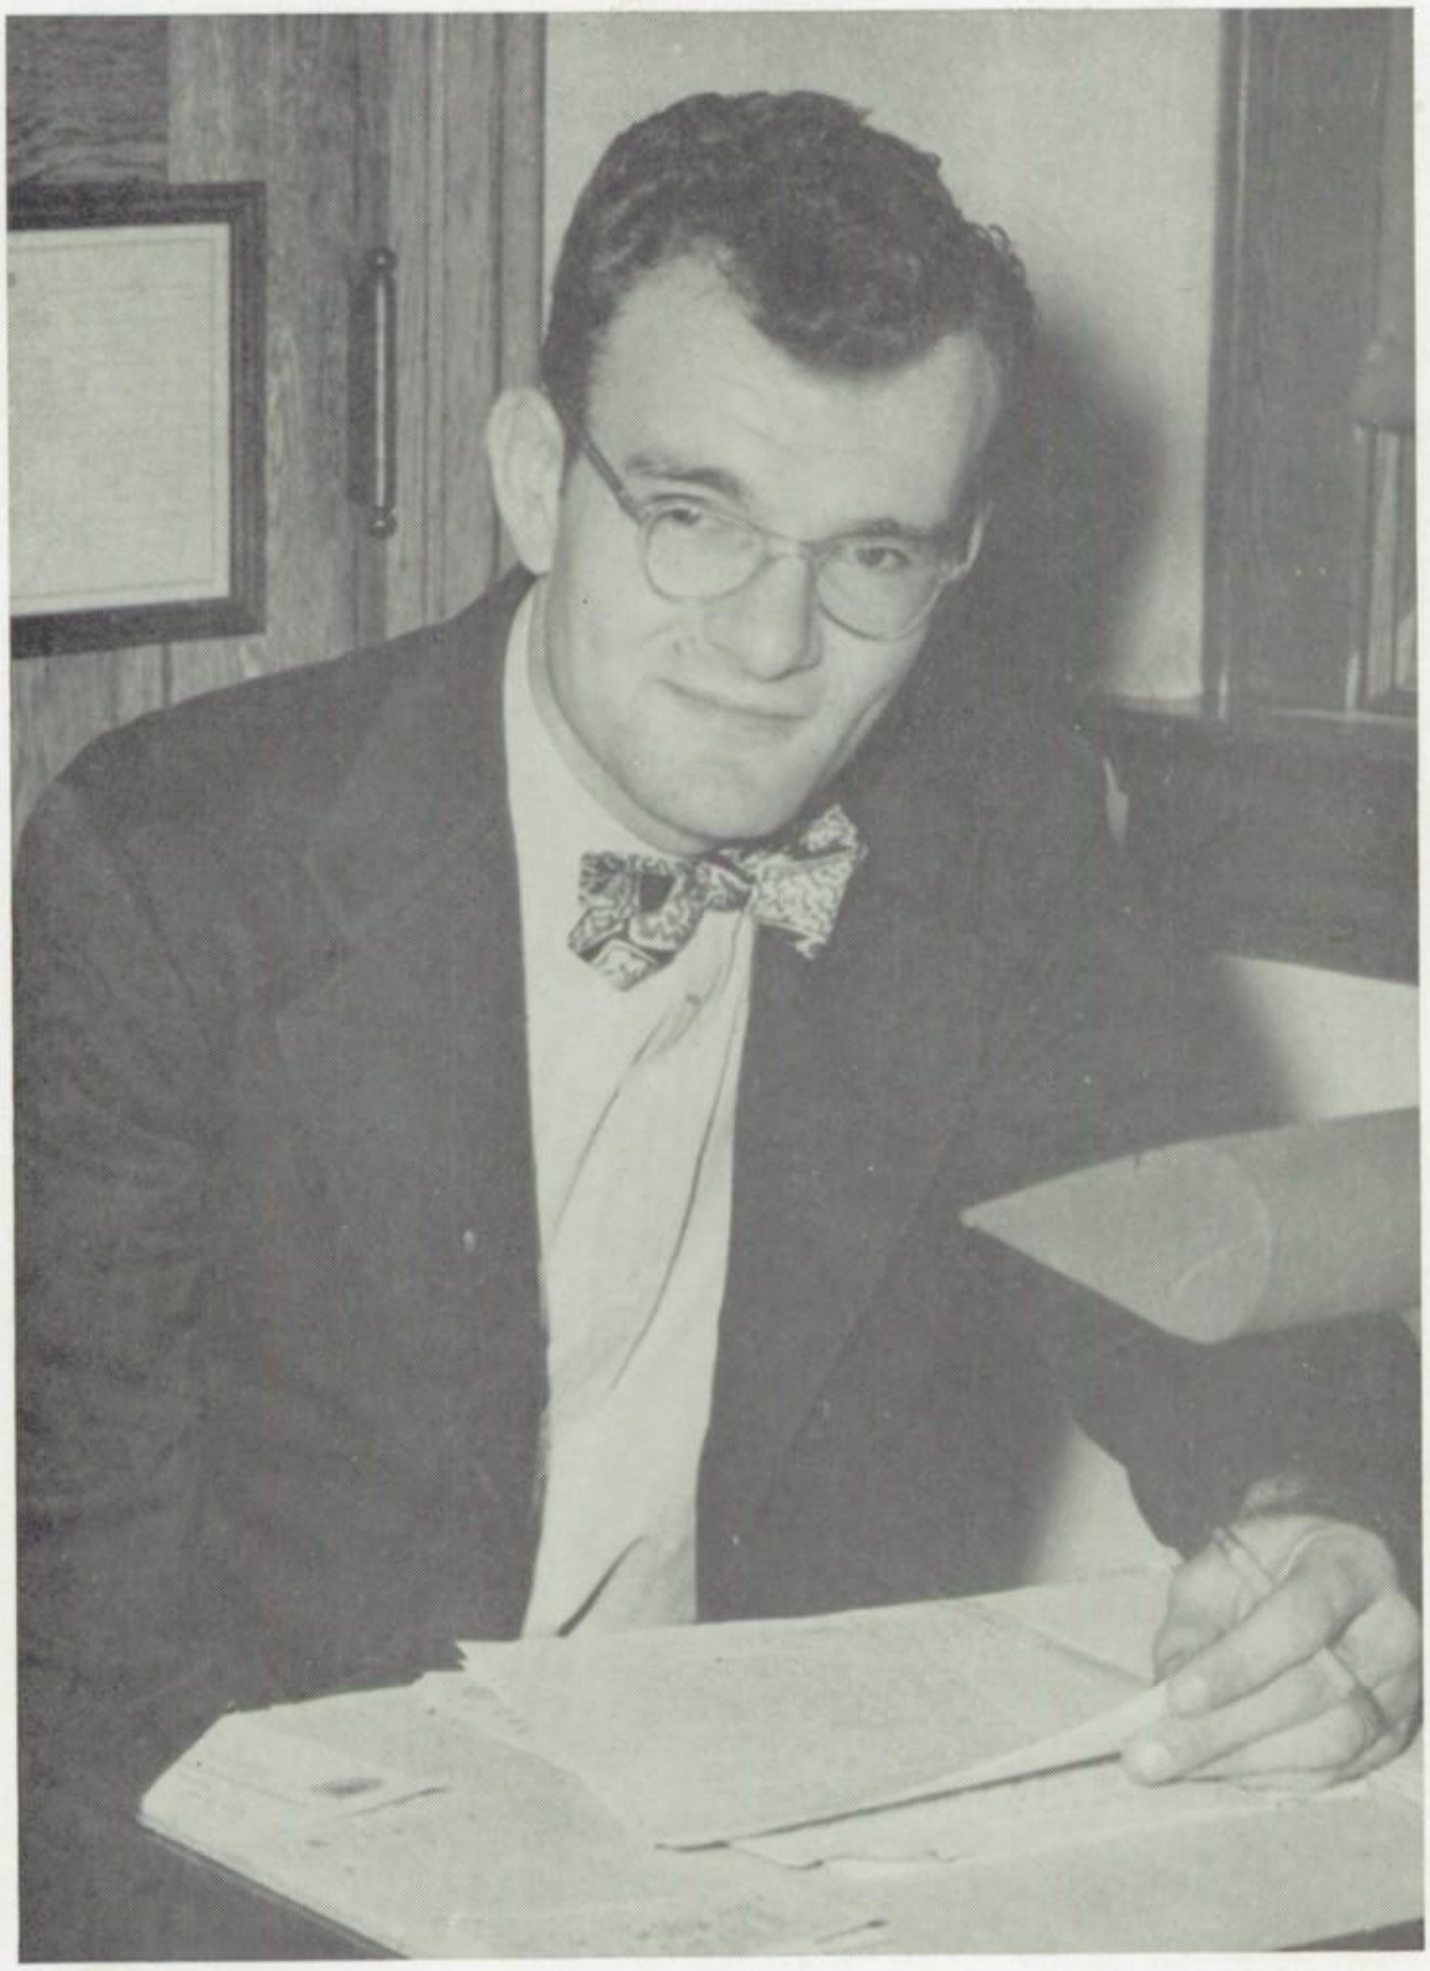
The pupils of R. H. S. have appreciated the wholeheartedness with which the ardent fans have watched the Ramblers win the M. V. L. football championship this year, and cheered the basketball team as it entered the semi-finals of the County Basketball Tournament. It is this feeling of backing from our rooters which has created an ever hopeful spirit in the student body which will never perish.

We feel sure that next year's athletic program will gain new favor by our ability to accommodate all of our ardent fans in the new stadium, a dream being fulfilled by the generous response of the townspeople to our appeal for a bond issue to finance this project.

With the issuing of this year's annual, the time is approaching when the minds of the class of '50 are centered on the long awaited event — graduation! In this book you will find those cherished memories which the seniors must now leave behind them as they try to find their places along the path of life.

The Rosette staff members offer this book as their final project for the year. In it, they have recorded the various events and activities which have made this an eventful year of high school. It is their aim, as it is the aim of every publishing staff, to leave this anual as a fitting memorial to the later classes.

Dedication



MR. ROBERT REGULA

We, the Rosette staff, wish to dedicate this annual to Mr. Robert Regula, our superintendent. He has done a fine job in his first year and has given us much co-operation. We hope that he will stay with our school as long as possible.

Faculty

MISS CARTER — Look what Santa brought her — loves those seniors — greatest ambition is to have quieter study halls.

MRS. KERCHNER — neat white uniform in which she teaches class. Wives from her — for our boys.

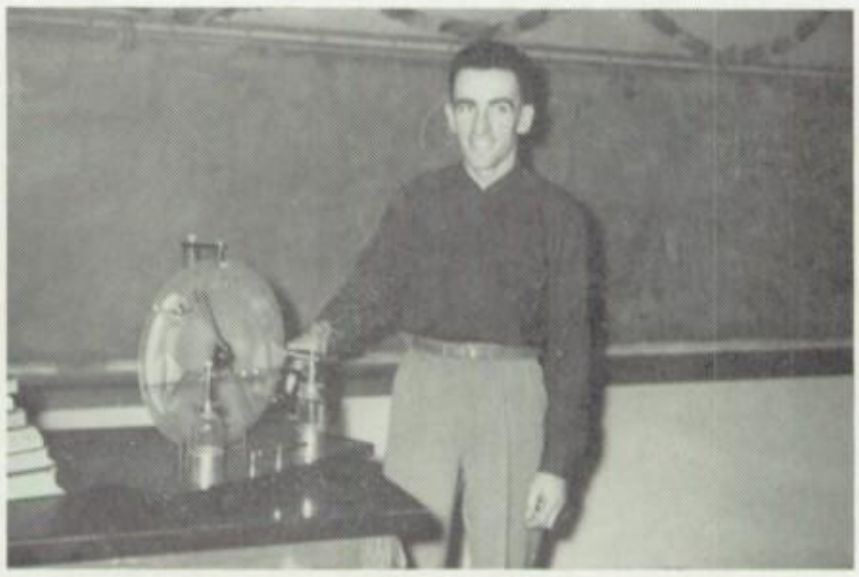
MR. BUCK — Where are those detention slips? Don't tell us he doesn't have them.

MISS CLARK — Has spent the most years on the faculty. Won't tell her age, but we can guess.

MRS. LEADERS — Assistant Junior teacher. Hear those keys clicking. Beware of that grey "49" Chevie.

Faculty

MR. LO PRESTI — Is seen often with whistle in hand. My, have the boys gotten so fast he has to buy a whistle to stop them?



MR. RUSSELL — Now, do you understand? Loves his physics class! Coach of our Junior varsity.

MR. STROUP — Keep an eye on this man. Who knows, he may be a famous rider - someday. One of his pet aversions is "jazz."

MISS RANSBOTTOM — The Rosette adviser. Loves to ride with the top down on her convertible. If you hear something clicking up the halls, it's only Nancy in her spikes.

MR. CURL — Roseville's Joe Dimaggio. Windy's pal. The girls still have their eye on him since he's the only young, unmarried male in the building.

Faculty

MISS RICKS — Instructor of the snappy majorettes. What's that commotion? Only Ricks and her cheerleaders on a new cheer.

MR. SMITH — Coach of the champion M. V. L. Ramblers. You think he is chubby! You should see him in one of those football uniforms.

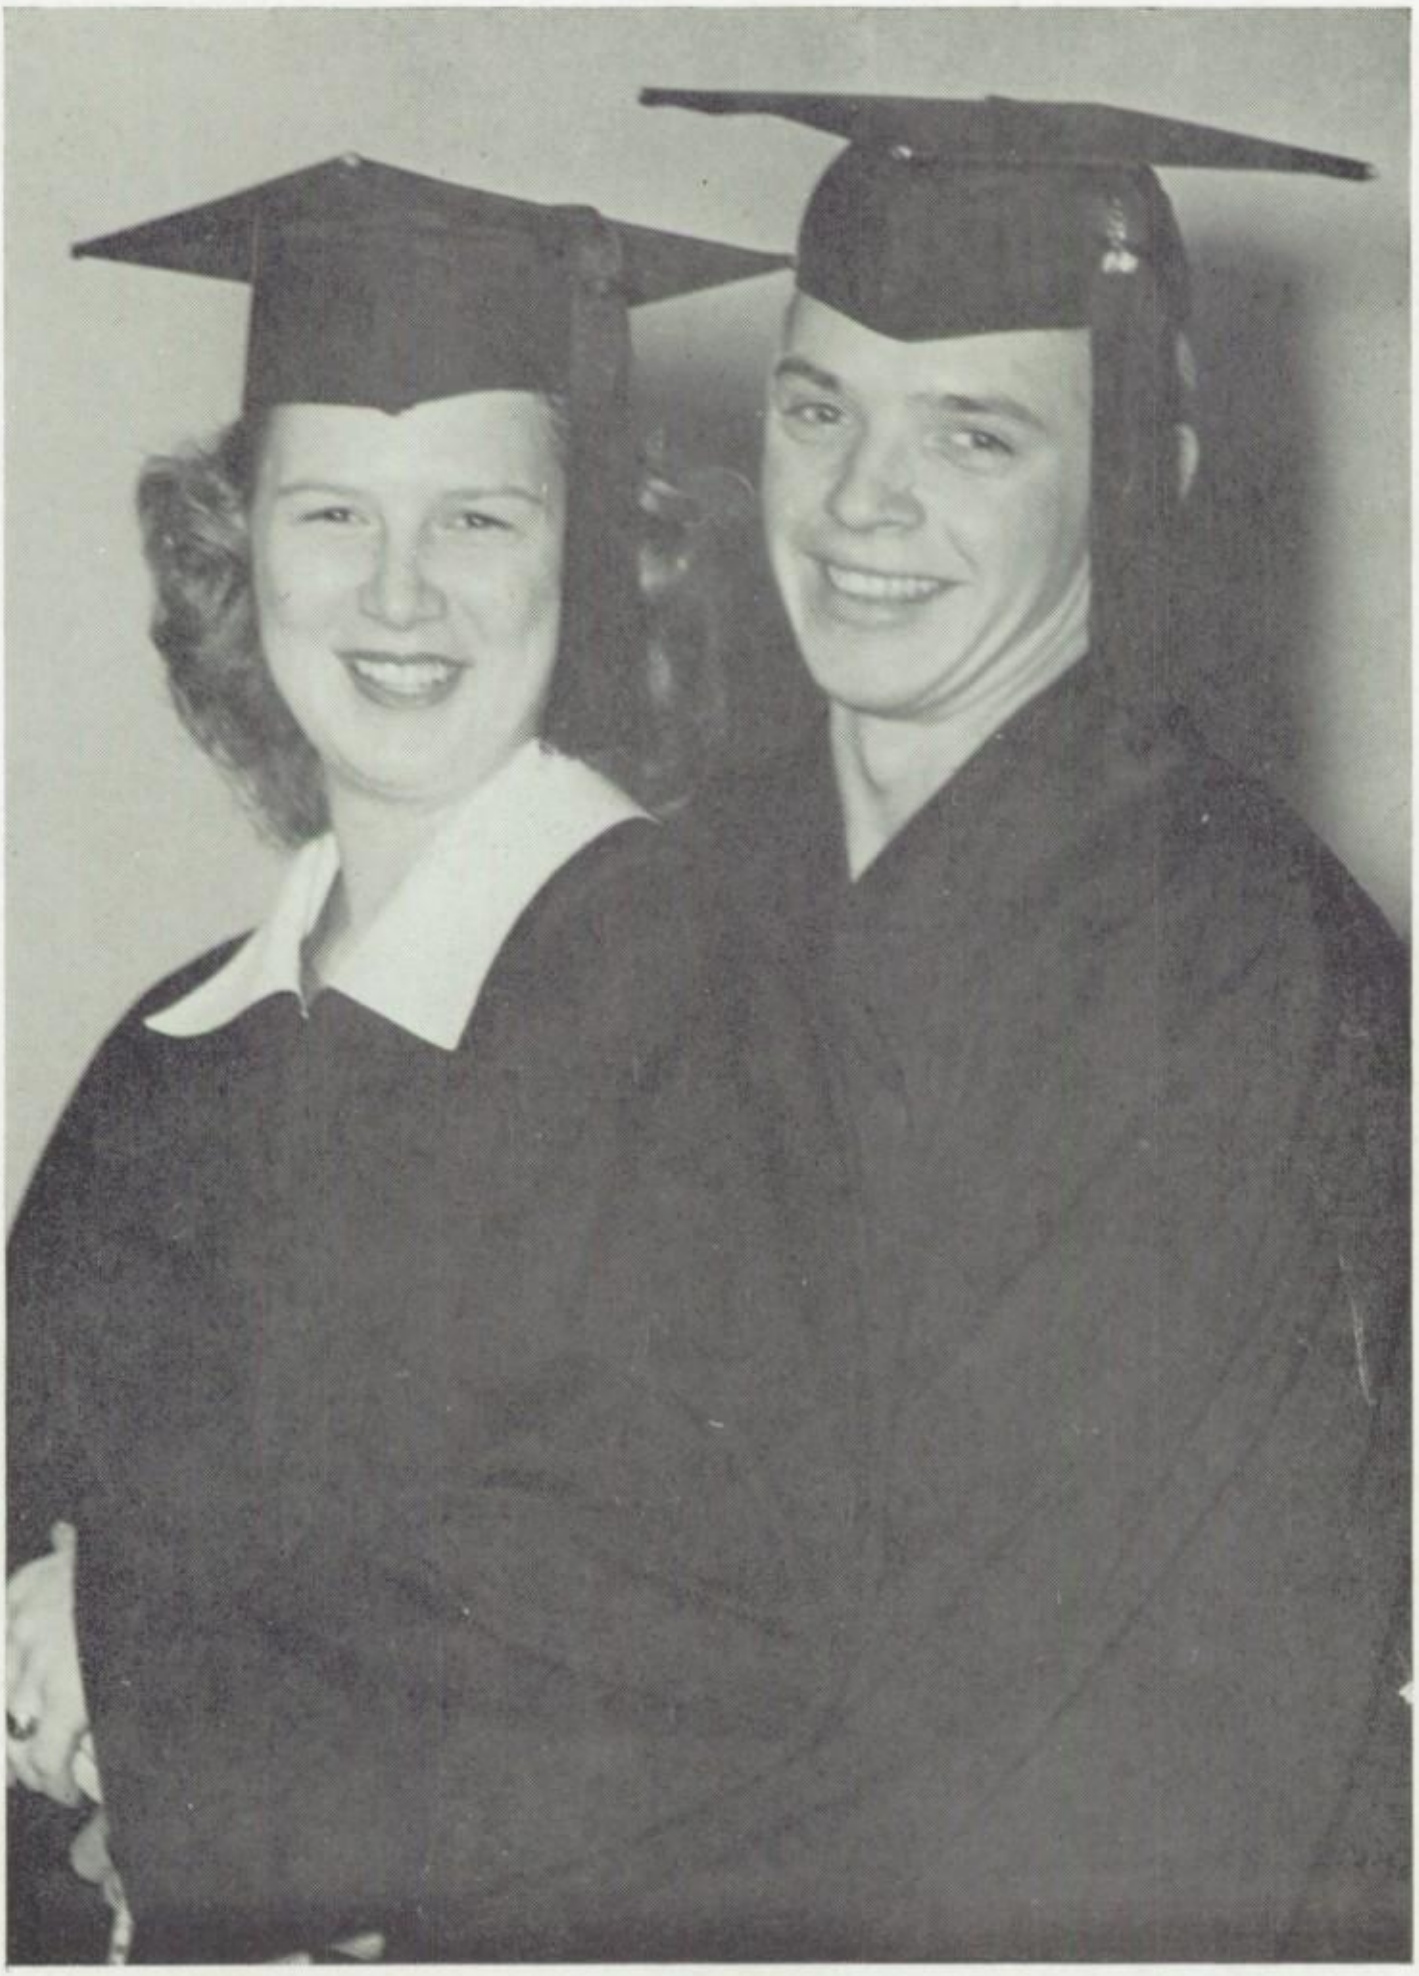
MISS HANES — If you see her with globe or some maps in her hands — she's not leaving; it's just material for Junior High geography.

MRS. MADDOX — Typical mother of the faculty as well as of her family.

MRS. WISEMAN — If you smell anything burning, it's just the new wife learning to cook. She's also our secretary.

MR. KING — The wonderful housekeeper of R. H. S. Is often seen with broom and dust cloth in hand.

Seniors



Even though we were sent to school to learn something, we have had our fun. Remember — the M. V. L. Celebration — the Class Plays — Variety Shows — Square Dances. And to turn the tables there were — Every Pupil Tests — Scholarship Tests — Detention Slips — Excuses, Excuses and More Excuses - - - - REMEMBER! ! ! ! !

PREXY BERNARD VICE-PREXY TOM
Co-captains of the class as well as the team.

Senior Class History

On a bright September morning in 1946, sixty-eight students knocked on the door of R. H. S. They were admitted and escorted to their home room by the mighty seniors. The idea of being in high school and the fear of initiation were enough to keep this class busy throughout the year. We were guided that year by Mr. Lo Presti. We started our year with the following officers:

Marge Williams is the competent secretary for the class. Very handy with the needle and thread as well as the books.

Elizabeth Glass is the money-holder of the class. She forms a vital part of the senior clarinet quartet.

Tom Sagle, president; Eugene Daniels, vice-president; Lena Smith, secretary; and James Way, treasurer.

Having survived our freshman year, we took another step toward our goal. This time we were enrolled as sophomores. We chose as officers: Barbara Tharp, president; Ray Wallace, vice-president; Donna Roberts, secretary; and Bill Ridenour, treasurer. We held a "Royalty Dance" with Barbara Tharp and Don Savage reigning as queen and king. During this year we were under the leadership of Mr. Buck.

Our junior year started with a bang! Miss Clark was our supervisor. We elected Bernard Sowers, president; Bill Ridenour, vice-president; Donna Roberts, secretary; and Marge Williams, treasurer. We had many projects which included the sale of schedule pencils and magazines. The proceeds from these were used as the financial backing for our annual "Junior-Senior Prom". We chose our mascot, a little dog, who was named "Shmoo". We also gave our Variety Show and Class Play in which all the members of the class participated.

At last we have reached our long determined goal as seniors under the leadership of Miss Alice Carter. At our first class meeting we chose the following officers: Bernard Sowers, president; Tom Sagle, vice-president; Marjorie Williams, secretary; and Elizabeth Glass, treasurer. With the senior class trip in mind, we started in on our money-making projects and discussed the usual things such as pictures, caps and gowns, invitations, and graduation activities. Our Homecoming Queen was Miss Donna Roberts and her senior attendant was Miss Jone Watt. The heroes of the freshman class of 1946, Tom Sagle and Bernard Sowers, became the men of the hour as the co-captains of the football team. Our class has been well represented in band, sports, cheerleading, and clubs. Now, as we leave Roseville High School, we leave our empty room and polished seats to the juniors in hopes that they can fill them as well as we did.

Class Poem

"THE CLOCK OF LIFE"

Let us turn back the clock of life,
To just four years ago,
Try to recall the things we did,
Before we have to go.

Did we accomplish what we should?
Did we work with a will?
Placing no faith in the coming day,
For the clock might then be still.

We know there were tasks we neglected,
We know we were often wrong,
But everyone fails sometime,
No matter how weak or how strong.

So the hours ticked by and the time has come,
For our class to say goodbye,
But much of the success we ever gain
We'll attribute to Roseville High.

—Mildred Ridgley

Class Prophecy

The Senior Class of 1950 is having its class reunion this fourth day of July, 1970. Bernard Sowers, the former class president, is presiding over this group. He is now the coach of the Cleveland Browns. First, we see Harold Whetstone, now the Superintendent of the Muskingum County Schools. He is followed by Bill and Barbara Ridenour who have just flown here from their thousand-acre cattle ranch in Utah. Here comes the nurse corps. Yes, it's Mary Wiseman and Mildred Ridgley in their white nurses' uniforms. They are all prepared to take care of any casualties that might occur throughout the day.

My goodness, I hardly knew the stylish Marjorie Williams; but, of course, she is now a model for Messieur Herb de Pettie, the well-known French dress designer. Here comes Charles Harlan, now an automobile dealer, with his girl friend, Edna Spring, who is now a florist. We regretted very much to hear that Tom Sagle couldn't be present, but he is busy helping his wife, Sally, fill prescriptions.

Donna Pemberton, editor of "Holiday" magazine, has promised everyone a free subscription to it. Barbara Norris, who runs a correspondence course on "How To Keep Your Husband", is also unable to attend because her husband, Bob, has been missing for five days.

Now here we see Donna Roberts who has written a well-known book, "How To Publish An Annual". Bonita Loterbaugh, the well-known television queen, has just purchased a banana plantation in Cuba. Ray Wallace is now arriving. With him is part of his all-girl orchestra; mainly, Marjorie Roberts, June Swingle, and Elizabeth Glass. My, what a good looking set of womanhood.

We now see Mrs. Bill Fountain, formerly Margaret Rader, and Mrs. Bob Jenkins, nee Sue Williams. We know that you have all heard of Jim Way, the radio comedian. Well, today, he is really telling his jokes to everyone, including Vergina Weaver's baby. Donna Walchak and Donna Gill are helping out with the refreshments since both are waitresses at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City. I think I see — yes, it is Mana Embrey. She is the first woman Secretary of the United States. Believe it or not! Speaking of politics, here comes Mayor Jim Riley of Roseville. By the way, Roseville won the football league this year with the help of their coach, Gene Daniels. I was just talking to Katie Carr. She is working her way up in politics by scrubbing floors in the White House.

The former Jone Watt, now Mrs. Allen Pitcock, has just arrived with her twins. She is the general manager of the largest hardware store in America. Here come our two French entertainers, Theta "MIMI" Tatman and Barbara "FIFI" Miller. They have been singing at the Cafe de Paris on the Riviera for the last six months. If anyone wants a new hairdo, go to the famous Bonnie Meadows and she will do wonders for you.

The well-known rodeo rider and queen, Sue Sarrell, hit town last week with her band of fifty horses. Donna Clark, who arrived a short time ago, is the head of the largest woolen mill factory in the world. Our movie actress, Elda Clayton, just drove up in her long, black limousine. And now I see coming my way, the girl who gives everyone a thrill with her murder stories, none other than Mary Gheen.

Wilma Johnson is the star trapeze artist in the Edith "Toodles" Mauller circus. They have animals, too. For any of you girls who need to lose a little weight, here and there, just visit Betty Murphy's reducing salon. She is quite an expert, you know. Well, here comes someone that we almost missed, Miss Donna Skinner, who is now Dean of Girls' Industrial School at Marysville. Our last one to arrive, as you might know, is the mortician, Bob Goodlive. He wishes to extend an invitation to anyone who cares to visit him before it's too late.

This has been a perfect day for the reunion of the class of 1950, and everyone has enjoyed himself immensely. Many of us took up professions of which we had never dreamed, but I guess that we all turned out as well as could be expected.

A Friendly Get-Together

Class Will

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1950 of Roseville High School, being of sound minds, do hereby make public and declare this our last will and testament in the following manner:

ARTICLE I

To the class of '53, we leave three more years of solitary confinement.

To the class of '52, we leave the hope that Bob Ball doesn't drive you crazy.

To the class of '51, we leave Miss Carter. Heaven help you.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. Buck we leave a pack of blood-hounds for tracking down delinquent students.

To Mr. Regula we leave the inalienable right to entertain unruly seniors in the privacy of his office.

To Alice Carter we leave the terrible thought that we won't be here next year.

To Lola Clark we leave a box of pencils and a pair of new elbows to rub.

To Nancy Ransbottom we lave the hotdogs and buns for next year's games.

To Mike Lo Presti we leave another smudge pot.

To Bill Curl we leave a gas pipe.

To Bob Russell we leave the thought that he won't have such great physicists next year.

To Red Smith we leave a quarterback who can think, a tackle with killer instincts, an end with glue on his fingers, and a team that has as clean minds as we had.

To Grace Kershner we leave a lot of potato peelings and bones to replace those which she has thrown away in the past year.

To Geneva Leaders we leave bookkeeping workbooks to try to balance. We know that you can't.

To Vern King we leave the paper wads and erasers that he has picked up in the past year. But only those which we "Seniors" threw.

ARTICLE III

To the school we bequeath the following:

A few worn out erasers.

The memories of having the privilege of teaching our class.

Our portraits in the study hall.

Our books, papers, pencils, and numerous other things which enabled us to graduate as the smartest class to ever roam the halls of R. H. S.

Article IV

I, Theta Tatman, will my curly hair to Creta DeMent.

I, Barbara Miller, will my height to Charlie Cassady.

I, Ray Wallace, will my ability to date four girls in one week to Nelson Melick in hopes that he has a stronger constitution than I have.

I, Jone Watt, will my ability to never be without a boyfriend to Paula Maxwell.

I, June Swingle, will my girdle to Marlene Carson.

I, Harold Whetstone, leave my good looks and a way with women to Marvin Folden.

I, Mana Embrey, will my cheerful ways to Mr. Buck.

I, Mildred Ridgley, will my giggles to Glenna Embrey.

I, Donna Gill, will my class ring to Dick Claypool.

I, Jim Riley, will my detention slips to David Crowder.

I, Donna Jean Clark, will my ability to talk in study hall to Mary Jane Shaw.

I, Mary Carr, leave my English scholarship test to Miss Ransbottom.

I, Mary Wiseman, leave my Presidency of the Library Club to anyone who has a great love for books.

I, Gene Daniels, will my ability to cut corn with a shotgun to Terry Staley.

I, Mary Gheen, will my red hair to Marvin Moody.

I, Vergina Weaver, will my part in the Prince of Peace Contest to Kenny Bagent.

I, Sue Carrell, will my long ride on the school bus to Zola Gheen.

I, Charlie Harlan, will my parking space on the school ground to Mr. Buck.

I, Betty Murphy, will my figure to Nancy Carrell.

I, Edna Spring, will my nerve to ride with Charlie Harlan to anyone with nerve enough to try it.

I, Margaret Rader, will my ability to get engaged to Ann Lenhart.

I, Herb Pettit, will my car to Dayle Browning. He needs it.

I, Elizabeth Glass, will my ability to have two boy friends to Carolyn Miller.

I, Barbara Norris, will my bookkeeping workbook to anyone fool enough to take it.

I, Sue Williams, will my ability to get a boyfriend with a good car to Creta Sayre.

I, Don Savage, will my knack of skipping classes to Dick Dollings.

I, Elda Clayton, will my teeth to Earl Bruce.

I, Wilma Johnson, will my calmness to David Inman.

I, Bill Ridenour, will just leave on my honeymoon.

I, Barbara Tharp, will just go along with him.

I, Bonita Loterbaugh, will my make-up to Jeanine Moore.

I, Tom Sagle, will just leave.

I, Edith Mauller, will my good humor and backing of the team to Fairy Lloyd.
I, Donna Skinner, will my cheerleading tights to next year's cheer-leader.
I, Jim Wray, will my ability not to be tempted by the girls to Jerry Rider.
I, Marjorie Williams, will my title as sweater girl to Betty Harper.
I, Donna Walchak, will my ability to miss school to Dickie Taylor.
I, Bob Goodlive, will my euchre playing ability to Bob Ball.
I, Donna Roberts, will my ability to miss school to Bill Callihan.
I, Donna Pemberton, will my editorship of the Hilites to Carol Campbell.
I, Bernard Sowers, will my job as class president to anyone foolish enough to be elected.
I, Marjorie Roberts, will my ability to play first clarinet to Barbara Ditter.
I, Bonnie Meadows, will my government book to Jerald Bruce with the knowledge that nothing has been taken or learned from it.

Article V

On the last day of the 1950 school life, the entire class bequeaths bushels of maple leaves to all the teachers. On this day, the Senior Class did a very extraordinary thing. It mobbed Father Time, stole his scythe, and chased him up a tree. There, high on a limb, sits the Senior Class scribbling memories on each leaf and dropping them one by one, only to find, as they flutter to the ground, the run-down looking teachers.

To the Athens Insane Asylum we bequeath any teacher that has not been able to withstand our terrible onslaught.

Article VI

Signed, published, and declared by the above Senior Class as and for its last will and testament, in the presence of Skelton, Chemicals, Kilroy, and us who in its presence and at its request has hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses.

MIDDLE GROUND — 1950

Parents, Faculty, Board of Education, and Friends:

At this time of year, all over the United States, thousands of high school seniors are assembled for their commencement exercises. Not only is this true this year, but it has been true for many years. But, we, the Class of 1950, feel that we hold a unique position as we wait to receive our diplomas tonight. I say a unique position because we are standing in "middle ground"—in other words, the middle of the century.

Within the first half of the century, many events of great importance influenced our way of living. Inventions such as the airplane and the atomic bomb were of primary importance in winning the second world war. The construction of modern machinery has led to better organized industry. Television has brought the world to our door-step. Having been taught that the majority of successful people of the future will be graduates of high schools similar to this, it is logical for us to assume that the accomplishments and problems of the next fifty years will depend largely upon the classes of 1950 and upon other graduating classes of the near future.

More than ever before, men are coming to realize the need for an education in order to cope with the problems that face them. One of the most important problems at the present time is the question of how to preserve world peace.

It is now believed that world peace can be maintained only through the education of the people. In the homes, schools, and churches throughout America, steps have been taken toward abolishing hatred and prejudice in the heart of the individual. For example, American colleges and universities have inaugurated the policy of sending American students to foreign countries, and foreign students to America, in order that the various countries of the world will have a better understanding of each other. This carries out the belief that, in order to understand a person, we must become familiar with his habits and customs. If the idea that "all men are created equal" is continued to be taught in the homes, schools, and churches, perhaps, someday, we will have a truly democratic way of living. Democracy leads to co-operation — co-operation, to world peace.

The members of this class are well aware of the responsibilities which will face them in the future. Not only is the Class of 1950 graduating in the middle of the century, but also in the midst of a great world wide problem. We are truly standing in "middle ground." What will our part be?

ADVICE

Listen my children, and you shall hear
Of my experience both far and near.
Around this building in times gone by
I've been chased with paddle held high.

Detentions, excuses, and troubles galore
Have come each year more and more.
Moments of gladness heaped upon this
Have caused me never to want to miss.

Along with these, if you have heeded
Your teacher's advice, as you've proceeded;
You'll grow in knowledge and experience, too,
And then your gains will come to you.

So pay attention and stay in school
And let this be your standing rule;
For education to school you've come
And don't think it's a place just for fun.

Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, too,
Please heed what I have said to you
And in the future you may be
A brilliant senior just like me.

The well-liked prexy of the junior class is Eddie Sterling. Eddie loves to make speeches — especially when Miss Clark insists on it.

The handsome vice-prexy who makes a hit with the ladies and like Eddie adores making speeches is Dayle Browning.

Junior Class History

Three years ago, on Sept. 4, 1947, seventy-six girls and boys reported to Grace Mulligan and John Smith to begin their first year of four in high school. Class officers were chosen as follows: President, Bill Callihan; Vice-President, Max Dilts; Secretary, Gerald Bruce; and Treasurer, Frances Mankey. We chose as a mascot, a yellow lamb, named "Daisy June". During the first part of the year came the well remembered day of the Freshmen. It was initiation. Many of the class represented us in all school activities.

On Sept. 2, 1948, sixty-seven members returned as sophomores under the leadership of Wayne Buck and Robert Russell. This year's class officers were chosen as follows: President, Dayle Browning; Vice-President, Marlene Aiken; Secretary, Ann Lenhart; and Treasurer, Bill Callihan. An appointed committee selected our class rings. Again our class was represented in many activities.

Sixty-two of our sophomore class assembled in room 19 on Sept. 6, 1949, to begin the junior year. We are very proud of our directors, Miss Clark and Mrs. Leaders. This year, we selected our class colors which are green and white. We have already purchased our class pennant. Class officers were elected as follows: President, Eddie Sterling; Vice-President, Dayle Browning; Treasurer, Carol Campbell; and Secretary, Bill Callihan. This year we are trying to build up our treasury. We have sold pencils, magazine subscriptions, etc. We were represented in the High Schol Varsity Show, football, basketball, band, and all other activities. The class selected as the junior attendant for the Homecoming activities, Miss Jean Ann Williams.

As we look back with pride upon the preceding years, we find that we have accomplished many achievements, and know that in the future we will accomplish many more.

The well-known secretary of the class is Bill Callihan who simply loves to speak French.

The Class Treasurer, that girl with the personality plus all the money, is Carol Campbell.

Known as Nancy. Usually seen with Bernard, Sue, Mary Jane, and Paula. Likes football games and music. Vice-president also.

Sophomore Class History

On September 7th, 1948, eighty-three freshmen, three rooms of us, enrolled at Roseville High School. Our advisers were Mrs. Ramsey, Mr. Curl, and Mr. Lo Presti. We elected the following class officers: Robert Gamble, president; Nellie Rider, vice-president; Nancy Williams, secretary-treasurer; and two representatives, Barbara Ditter and Ruth Roberts. After living through initiation we had a combined hayride and weiner roast.

Seventy-two of us returned for our second year with Mr. Russell and Mr. Lo Presti being our homeroom teachers. At the first meeting, the following class officers were elected: Jerry Owens, president; Nancy Williams, vice-president; Johanna Heckel, secretary; and Barbara Ditter, treasurer. For dues, we decided to pay a quarter a month. Our class is well represented in outside activities.

Known as Heckel. Usually seen with Lois and Booty. Likes to talk. Secretary of the class.

Known as "Barb". Usually seen with Pat and Barb N. Likes music and football games. Treasurer of the class.

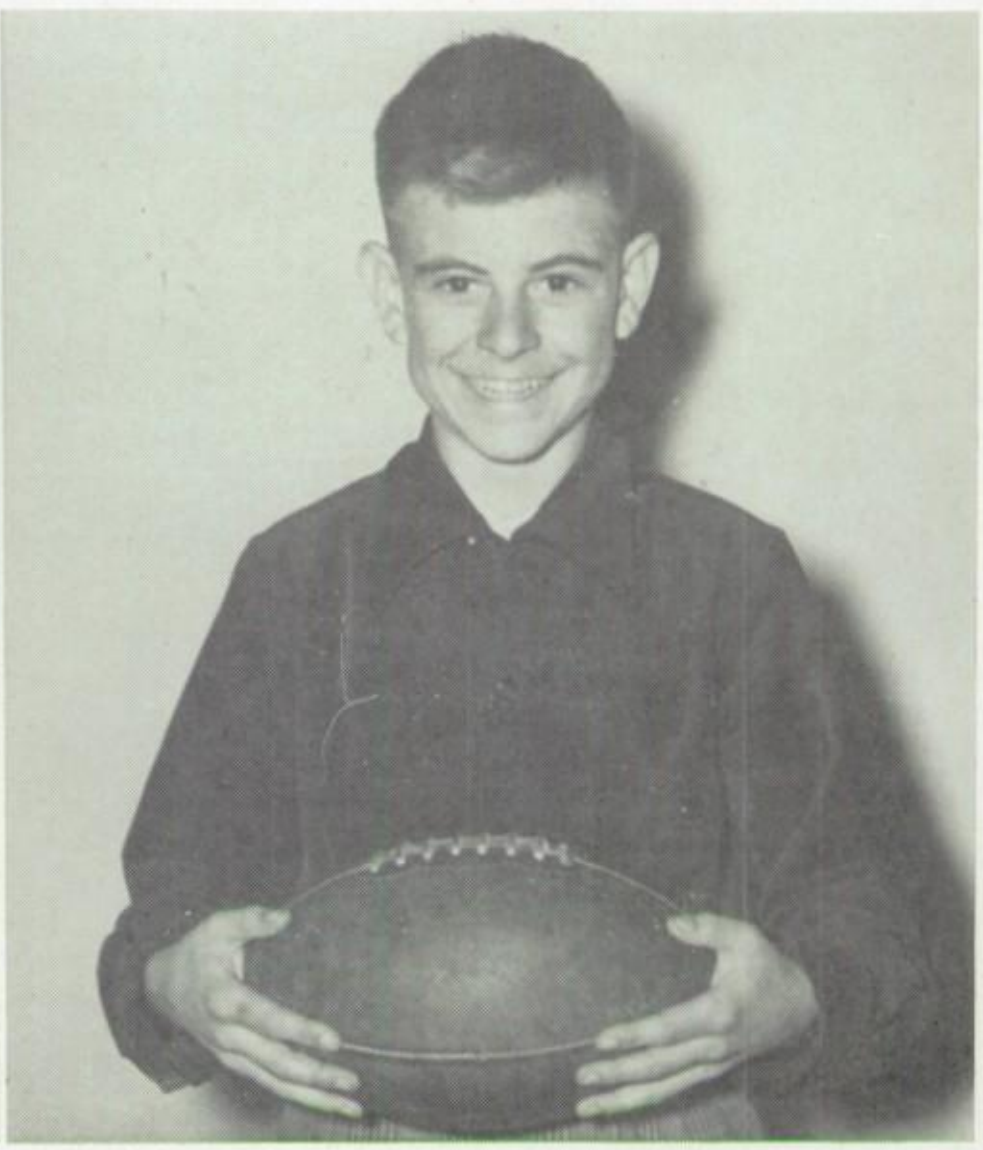
Known as Paula — likes at White Cottage — usually seen with Parks or Drake — likes to hear Perry Como sing — President of the class.



Known as Doc — usually seen with Baldwin—lives at East Fultonham — fishing is his hobby — doesn't like girls — Vice-president of the class.

Freshmen Class History

On September 6, 1949, seventy-four freshmen, two rooms of us, enrolled at Roseville High School. Our advisers are Miss Ransbottom and Mr. Curl. We elected the following class officers: President, Paula Maxwell; Vice President, Charles Cassady; Secretary and Treasurer, Carl Taylor; and two representatives, Bernie Baldwin and Gene Probasco.

We survived initiation with flying colors. Later on we had a combined hay ride and weiner roast. This spring the class and some of the faculty enjoyed a potluck lunch in the Home Economics room. We are looking forward to our next year.

Known as Purd — lives at Roseville — usualy seen with anyone — likes to play football—representative from Mr. Curl's room.

Activity Life

"Activity Life". These two words strike a sound chord in the minds of every person who is, or has been, in high school. This is the part of school that breaks the monotony of all math problems, Latin phrases, dates of history, and all those other revolting subjects. Activity life includes such things as library club, Hilites, Rosette, glee club, band, class plays, F. H. A., Varsity R and all other things that remain always, as a principal factor in the school life of every person who graduates.

Junior Red Cross

This year our Junior Red Cross has had one year of experience. Each room chose three representatives to our Red Cross Council. We have two honored representatives, Donna Roberts and Carol Campbell. These girls attended the kick-off banquet at the Y.W.C.A. in Zanesville and received many new and interesting ideas for projects. For projects we made birthday favors which we sent to the Avondale Children's Home. We also made favors for different holidays for Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital. We made nut cups and sent them to the Red Cross office in Zanesville. There were many other projects including collecting funny books and pocket-size magazines and making a correspondence album to send to some foreign nation. We're sure that the Council found the projects were easy and considered the work fun.

Last year the Red Cross selected Donna Roberts as representative to go to the Red Cross camp in West Virginia for ten days. We, the Red Cross Council, wish to thank Miss Clark for her fine work and co-operation with us. We also want to thank Mrs. Leaders for her fine work witht us due to the fact that she only has been with us this year. Miss Clark and Mrs. Leadears are our advisers.

There is no one, who travels through the halls of R. H. S. today, that has not read the school paper, the "Hilites". It is a tradition older than the walls of our school building. Each issue is heralded with a mad scramble and forgotten textbooks.

The "Hilites" is prepared for the press by the staff, consisting of twenty-seven students. It is published each month and has a circulation of around three-hundred copies. To anyone interested in journalism, it offers a great opportunity.

But its greatest value is that which it brings to the readers. Although the news may not be "news" to them, it is seeing your name and deeds in print that counts. And, as the years pass and you are no longer a student at R. H. S., you may look through your old scrap book and happen to find an old issue. Then you realize the true worth of the "Hilites".

Library

The Library Club started out the year with a bang! The first assembly was sponsored by our club, and I'm sure everyone enjoyed it, especially that boogie woogie.

Our club, this year, has a membership of nineteen with Miss Clark as our adviser and helper. The following were elected as our officers: president, Mary Wiseman; vice-president, Marjorie Williams; secretary, Lois Moody; and treasurer, Marlene Aiken. Our head librarians are Theta Tatman and Barbara Miller.

We had our annual Christmas party at which we exchanged gifts and had a potluck dinner in the home economics room.

The club has had a very successful year and wish to thank the students for their help and consideration which they showed the librarians when checking in and out a book.

F. H. A. Club Officers

F. H. A.

On October 21, we initiated nineteen freshman into our club. There are now thirty-one members. Our officers for this year are: Edith Mauller, president; Glenna Embrey, vice-president; Susie Savage, secretary; and Bonita Loterbaugh, treasurer. We are selling many different items this year such as socks with R. H. S. on them, salt water taffy, and programs for football games. We sold scotch tape with Roseville Ramblers printed on it, also.

We held an F. H. A. rally in the school auditorium on April 25, 1950, at which all of the county chapters were entertained. At this rally, county officers were elected.

Varsity "R"

During the school year of 1949-50, the Varsity "R" Club found itself enjoying a successful year. The officers who were elected to lead us are as follows: Nelson Melick, president; Dayle Browning, vice-president; Jim Way, secretary. Coaches "Mike" Lo Presti and "Red" Smith are our club advisers. The five new members who were initiated into the club this year are Bob Ball, Jim Riley, Jerald Bruce, Gene Daniels and Eddie Sterling.

This year we have sold pocketbooks, pencils, booster plates, plastic pillows and sponsored a square dance.

We wish to thank the townspeople for their support and co-operation this year and also for their votes for the bond issue for the new athletic field.

The Girls' Ensemble

The Girls' Ensemble

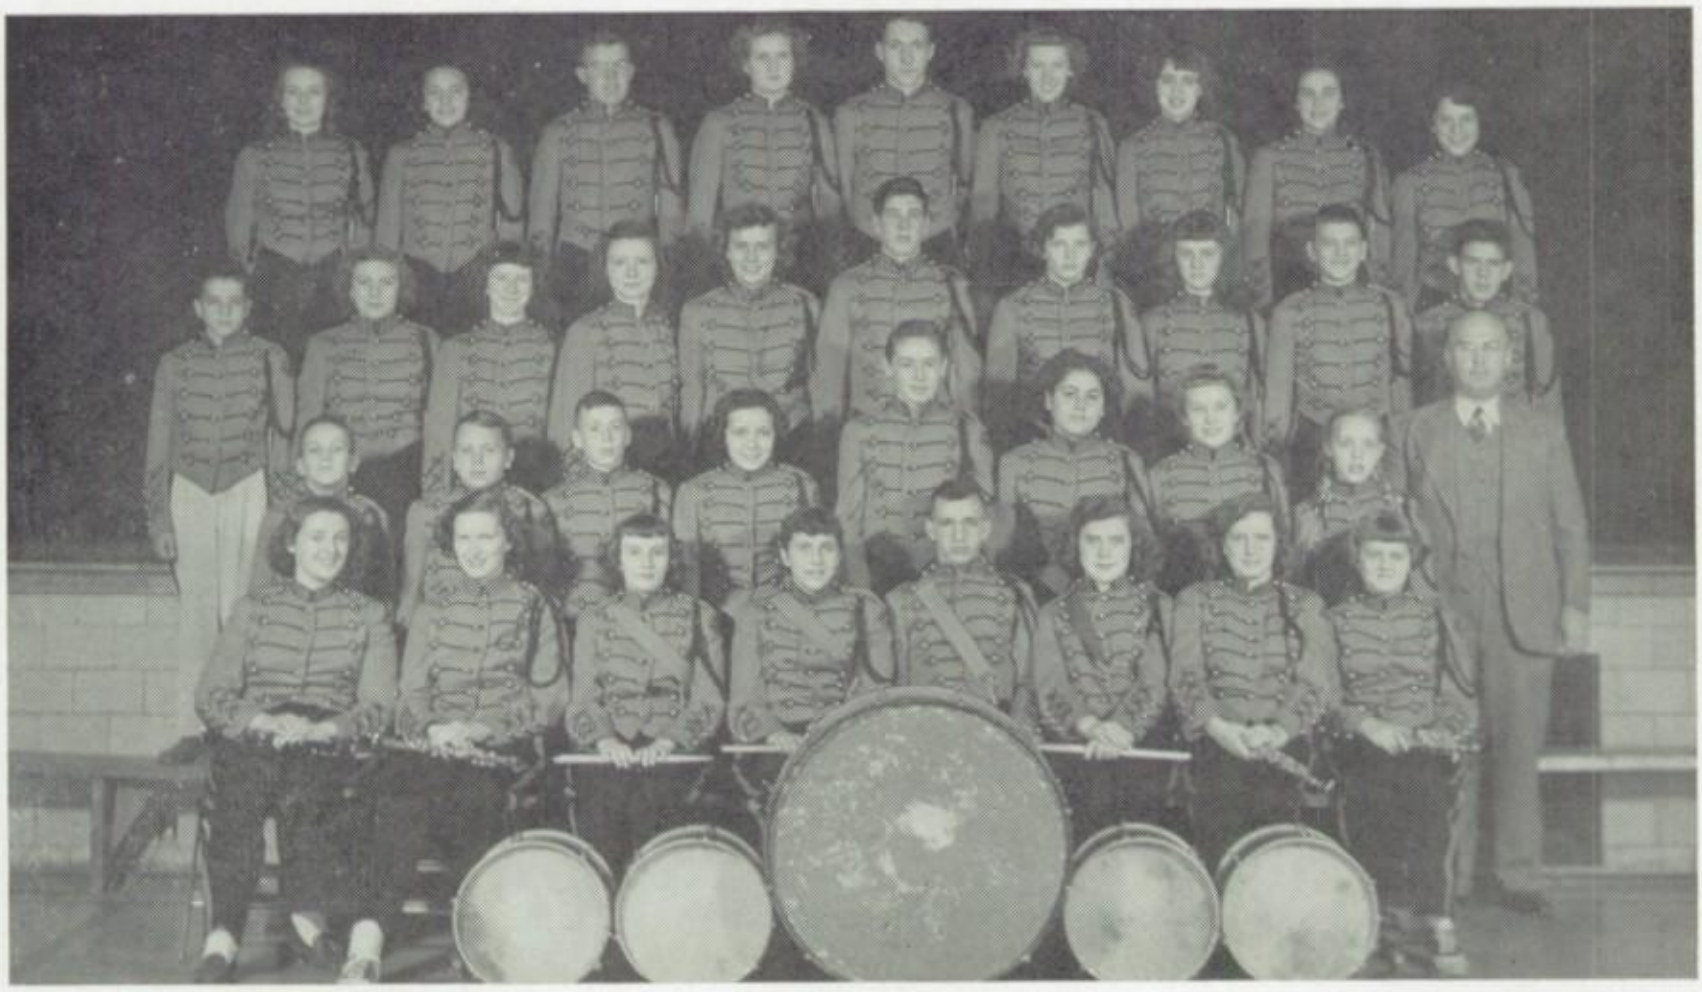
Seventy boys and girls have been assembling twice weekly this past year for mixed chorus. They appeared in a program with the band, at Christmas, singing carols both familiar and unfamiliar. Their only other public appearance will be at Baccalaureate services. I don't imagine the majority of the students realize how hard it is to prepare these programs, but the members have done a remarkable job. Four-part music has been used most of the time, making the work that much more difficult. Let's give these boys and girls a well deserved vote of thanks.

Mixed Chorus

Head Drum Majorette

Fronting our band are eight high-stepping, eye-filling girls who, under the direction of Miss Ricks, have succeeded in making a place on the majorette line, the dream of every high school girl. Headed by drum majorette, Twila Sagle, the girls strutted and twirled their way through the football season — adding just one more thrill to our list of memories . . . .

Majorettes



Marching Band

Approximately forty-three members, including many beginners, made up the band this year; and they have done a nice job. Under the able direction of Mr. Stroup, we've been quite active. Our first performance of the school year was at the Lash Reserves football game. Since then we've performed at all home football games and two games away from home. We presented a Christmas and Spring concert and have performed at various other activities.

Let's all back the bank in their attempts in future years. And, Band — Keep up the good work!

Cheerleaders

We, the cheerleaders, wish to express our appreciation to each individual for his co-operation in helping us back a fine team. We try to do our best, and with the coaching of Miss Ricks, we accomplish quite a bit. Being a member of the squad for four long years, it's hard to say "so-long". If each of us continue to back our future teams, we'll all be glad to say "We're for Roseville".

I, myself, would like to thank each one, again, for his co-operation in making our pep assemblies a success. You're doing a fine job; continue to do so through the years to come.

"Rosette"

Each year new members are elected for the Rosette Staff. This year's staff is as follows: Editor, Donna Roberts; Assistant-Editor, Anna Lenhart; co-business managers, Marjorie Aiken; Photographer, Vernon Russell; Advertising Department, Tom Sagle, Don Savage, Barbara Tharp, Mary Wiseman, Nelson Melick, Bill Callihan, Marion Perry, Carolyn Miller, and Fairy Lloyd.

Our first project for raising money is selling food during the football games.

During the last of October and the first of November, the staff begins to outline and make the "dummies." Approximately three "dummies" have to be made.

At the first of the year the advertising committee takes a few hours from school and visits the local and neighboring business firms to collect ads.

The year-book is then published and issued to the people who have subscribed. Miss Ransbottom is our faculty adviser.

Business Staff

These people are responsible for the food furnished for the public at all the athletic games of the year. The staff and their adviser, Miss Ransbottom, wish to thank everyone for their patronage.

The Queens

The Homecoming Queen — participates in all activities, both scholastic and extra-curricular — hands are full with the editing of the year-book, Rosette, — enjoys all sports — loves swimming the most — really goes for that "swing your partner" square dance — likes French fries dripping with ketchup.

Usually seen in a Chevy convertible, whose owner hails from Crooksville — wears dark rim glasses and has hair and eyes to match — typical school girl dresser from dirty saddle shoes to hair up in pincurls — chief chauffer for the kids on North Main — loves lobster and can swing a "mean" golf club.

Her lovely, wavy hair is the object of envy — she is a music lover and her pet aversion is studying — loves steak and spaghetti — usually seen with Marge and Sue — collects pictures — has a long hike to school every morning — does wonderful things with a needle and thread

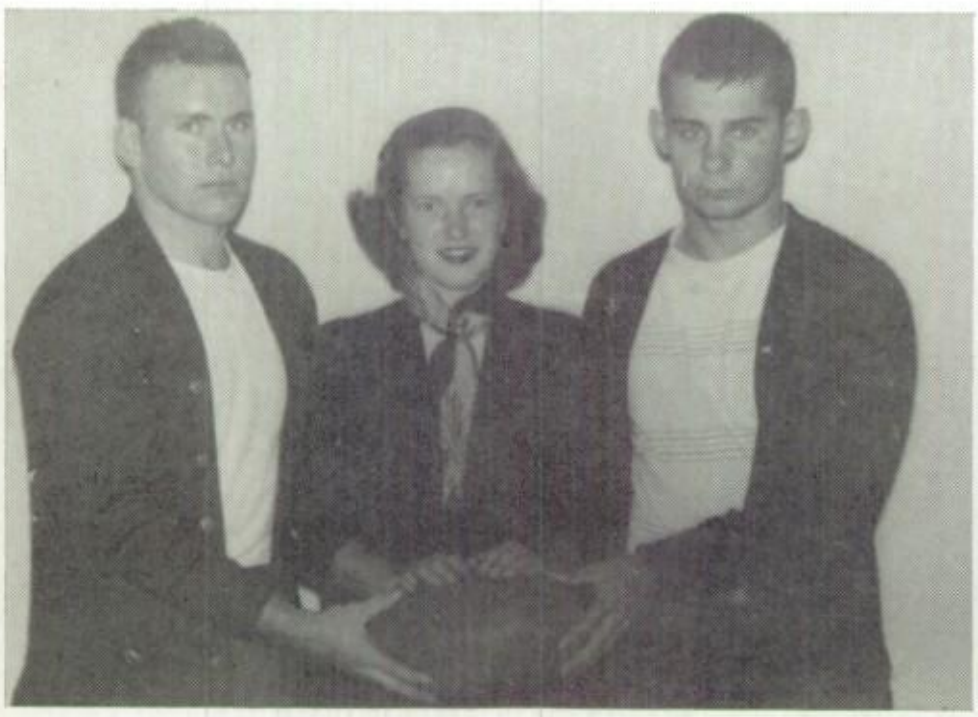
Always buzzing around in the car with the one and only, Bernard — uses Pepsodent as anyone can see from the glitter of her smile — loves her fried chicken — enjoys swimming at the lake all summer.

"Miss Dimples" from White Cottage — not only our choice for a queen but Clyde's also — spends the summer months on the shore of Lake Isabella acquiring a delectable tan — loves mashed potatoes and eats them always — loves piano playing.

Paula, Jone, Donna, Nancy, and Jean

Homecoming

Friday, October 7, Philo ventured to Roseville to receive a trouncing of 39-0 from the M.V.L. CHAMPS. They also shared in the honor of receiving our Homecoming Queen, Miss Donna Roberts and attendants. The lovely queen was attended by Miss Jone Watt, senior; Miss Jean Ann Williams, junior; Miss Nancy Williams, sophomore; and Miss Paula Maxwell, freshman. After being heralded by a fan-fare from the band, the queen was met by both prominent co-captains, Tom Sagle and Bernard Sowers. The annual kiss was bestowed upon the football queen and lovely bouquets of yellow mums presented to both the queen and her attendants. After the gala festivities at half time, a juke box dance was held in the auditorium.



Queen and Captains

After the Election

Sports

Through these glasses has been witnessed many highlights in the field of athletics; such as, the great team which ran away with the M. V. L. championship, the hard fighting basketball team which advanced to the semi-finals, and the "two" kisses bestowed annually on the honored queen. Both the football and the basketball team were faithfully followed by an enthusiastic crowd of fans, who cheered them on in defeats as well as in victories. This proved that the teams of 1949-1950 will always be remembered by everyone for their great sportsmanship and wininng ability.

The Trophy

Headliners

ROSEVILLE ELEVEN DEFEATS BYESVILLE—

Roseville Ramblers scored in every quarter to defeat Byesville 41-0.

RAMBLERS UPSET PANTHERS IN EXCITING GAME—

Roseville became a favorite for this year's Muskingum Valley League Championship by defeating the 1948 co-champs, New Lex, 26-7.

ROSEVILLE CLUB WALLOPS PHILO—

The Ramblers coasted to a 39-0 triumph over Philo in the annual Homecoming game at Roseville. The victory was the fourth in as many starts for the Ramblers. The defeat was the first for Philo after three straight victories.

ROSEVILLE DRUBS CROOKSVILLE—

Roseville Ramblers squashed Croksville, their traditional rival, 74-0, getting sweet revenge for a drubbing Roseville suffered 18 years ago. The Ramblers took charge of things at the start, and steamrollered their way through the game.

RAMBLERS DOWN NEW CONCORD IN SIXTH STRAIGHT VICTORY—

Roseville Ramblers, undefeated this season, added New Concord to their list of victims, scoring a 26-14 victory over the Little Muskies. The win put the Ramblers in the undisputed possession of first place in the M. V. L.

RAMBLERS SCORE SEVENTH STRAIGHT WIN OF SEASON—

The Ramblers, in protecting their Muskingum Valley League leadership, scored twice in each period as they walked over M & M, 53-0.

ROSEVILLE DEFEATS CALDWELL FOR EIGHTH VICTORY OF YEAR—

Roseville Ramblers roared on down the victory trail by downing Caldwell, 39-6. The victory was the eighth straight for Roseville.

GLOUSTER NINTH VICTIM OF FIGHTING RAMBLERS—

Roseville Ramblers wound up their perfect season, downing Glouster 20-0 to become undisputed M. V. L. CHAMPIONS. It was their ninth straight win.

Co-captains

SAGLE—Played left half and was co-captain of this year's team. Was choice of the M. V. L. for left half. Chief passer for the team.

SOWERS—Co-captain of this year's team. He was choice for all M.V.L. full back. Good ball carrier — main stay in the middle of the line.

SAVAGE—Played right guard in this year's championship team. He was a unanimous choice for guard of all the M.V.L. teams.

WAY—He played tackle on the offense and the end on defense. He succeeded in breaking through the blockers to bring the ball carrier down. A choice for tackle of all M.V.L.

RIDENOUR—Was running mate with Savage and very tough offensively, especially, and down field blocking.

WALLACE—One hundred forty-five pounds of dynaminte who played defensive end and threw opponents for losses.

GOODLIVE—Played right half — he was one of the fleet-footed, pass receiving backs of which all coaches dream.

DANIELS—Played right guard and did a very good job defensively in the center of the line — he was also a capable blocker.

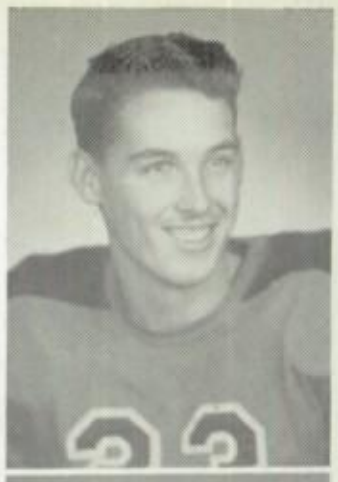
HOUK—Largest man on the team, who used his weight as an advantage for shoving around the other team.

RILEY—Played quarter-back, was a very good ball handler and pass defender.

BROWNING—One of the blockers on the team — his running was on an equal basis with the rest of the backs — he was chosen as co-captain for next year.

MELICK—Played end on the offense and halfback on the defense—he was a good pass receiver and scored many touchdowns because of this fact.

J. RIDER—Played end and was very good at catching passes, especially over center — also an all-around, defensive man.



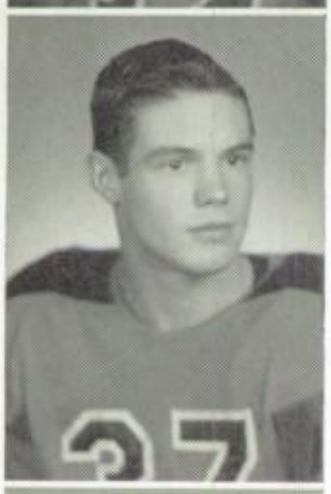
J. BRUCE—Played offensive center and was a very good blocker — he had a lot of spirit and could always be counted upon to do his share.

COWANS—A very good center and good defensive man — also, a very capable blocker.

B. RIDER—Played end — he was a good pass receiver and very competent on the defense.

BALL—Played tackle and was a very good defensive man — good at blocking in the center of the line.

PARKS—Played half-back, and was a good open-field runner — also a good passer.



DEVORE—Played left half and was a very fast runner.

E. BRUCE—Played full-back and was a very tough line backer — he proved his merit as a fellow who knew how to run the ball.

ADAMS—Played left guard and was a good blocker — he was very fast at pulling out around end and making an end run.

PROBASCO—Played tackle and was good in offense as well as in defensive playing.

EMORY—Manager of our victorious football team and basketball team.

STERLING—Manager of our victorious football team and basketball team.

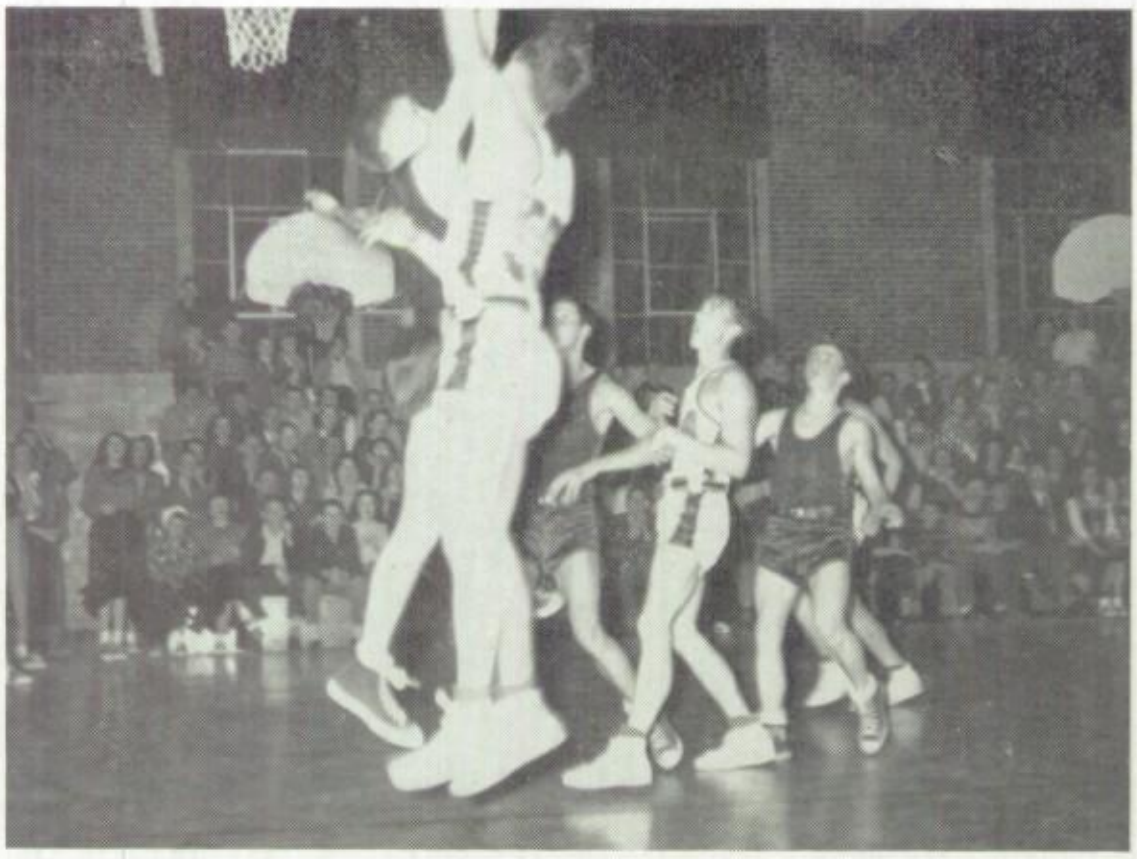
Scramble under the basket during the New Lex game.

The 1949-50 regular basketball season drew to a close with seven games won and thirteen games lost. During the season the team lost four of its members due to the fact that the boys had to work. This interferred with the scheduled practicing sessions.

The team went to the county tournament with a little of the "down in the dumps" feeling, but came through with flying colors and advanced to the semi-finals in the tournament. All in all, the team enjoyed a fair season.



Off the bankboard in the New Lex game.
